HILL/MARK OF THE VAMPIRE QUEEN

A brand-new Vampire Queen novel from the award-winning author who "never ceases to amaze." -Night Owl Romance
As servant to vampire mistress Lady Daniela, Elisa is unwaveringly devoted-but she recoils at one shocking request: destroy the untamed, undead children entrusted to her care. There is one desperate option: Malachi, a Native American vampire who is a legend for his work with rehabilitating feline predators. And as Malachi struggles to control the young ones' impulses, he opens himself up to those of Elisa-and the passion they share for the night could seal their fates forever.

Lady Daniela has never taken a full human servant. At two hundred years, she's always put it off, having a bachelor's attitude toward bonding with another, even an inferior human. However, on her return to her sheep station in Western Australia in 1953, she meets Dev, a war veteran and laconic bushman, who has the talents to help her reclaim her station from her mother's lover, who usurped her position there forty years before. But after she takes care of that nasty bit of business, she's also intending to rid Western Australia of a corrupt Region Master who is 500 years old and therefore over twice her age and strength. While a full human servant, particularly one with Dev's unique talents, can augment her skills and resources, the more she gets to know him, the more reluctant she is to bind him to her in a way that might get him killed. But Dev has his own thoughts on the matter, and she will soon find it's easier for a vampire to survive in the desert sun than for her to survive without him by her side.
